We facilitate

cross-border collaboration in the management of shared water resources in sub-Saharan Africa through the Cooperation in International Waters in Africa (CIWA) Program, which was established in 2011 with support from multiple donors.

We commit

to advancing gender equality.

Since 2020, the CIWA Program provides support to address challenges women face at the institutional and program level to facilitate equitable and inclusive participation in transboundary water management processes

We believe that men often hold key roles as stakeholders, influencers, and decision-makers in transboundary water programs and institutions. In June 2023, the CIWA Program launched a pilot initiative, the Male Champion for Woman's Empowerment, to engage and empower men in transboundary water management.

We Recruit...

Men who are:

Committed to promote gender equality

Active in facilitating women's equal participation in transboundary water programs or institutions

A role model for behaviour that demonstrates respect for gender equality and empowerment of women

Working within the transboundary water domain at the local, national or regional level in Africa

Available to commit time and energy on a voluntary basis to undertake actions at the personal and professional level that will change mindsets on gender inequalities

Join us!

If you would like to join the Male Champion for Woman's Empowerment, please follow this link and outline why you think you would be a good CIWA Male Champion for gender inequality.
